

Abdu

This young man from the south of Algeria ,in his first year studies at university got in touch through one of our face book page , insulting and threatening us and praising Islam and the prophet Allah, asking for proof that the Gospel is real and that Jesus was in fact crucified! , I immediately call him in messenger, and he was so surprised that I actually called him. We talked for more than an hour answering all his questions and it was not long before Abdu cried like a baby, praying to Jesus for forgiveness and to come into his life. I also shared with him my testimony, which encouraged him even more to realise that there are a lot of brothers and sisters that where like him before. Praise God for saving the lost.

This past week I opened a new face book page with my Muslim name ,just to find my old friends from school years and our neighbors who were childhood friends. Wow, we live in a small world! One of the neighbor that didn't hear from for maybe 30 years (I did once send him an invitation to our wedding for it is customary but he was away then in Saudi Arabia for a pilgrimage) I this week was in touch with and we talked for a long time. But Kamal didn't say anything about my religion because he was aware that I was Christian. I praise God for meeting him again ,as he accepted everything I shared with him and I told him my story of crossing Africa. But what amazed him most is what God has done with me through that journey ,and this was an opportunity to share the Gospel fully and clearly and deeply with him! He remarked that he thought I became Christian just because I wanted to live as a “westerner” He said “...but this is so real and I believe you but I need time to think about it as I have a lot of doubt in my mind about my faith now” Kamal was a single boy among 7 sisters ,an orphan, but what I remember of him was that he was very generous and respectful and we were together at the mosque of our village.
